

IRISH LIFE ASSURANCE PLC PRIVACY NOTICE

1. WHAT IS A PRIVACY NOTICE & WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

We know your personal information is important to you and it is important to Irish Life too. This Privacy Notice tells you what we use your personal information for and explains your rights around how we use it. Please read this Privacy Notice to understand how and why we use your personal information.

If you give us personal information about someone else, please make sure you have their permission and make them aware of this Privacy Notice, as it also applies to them.

2. WHAT PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT AND WHY

We use personal information to provide our plans, service our customers, assess claims and pay benefits. We must have a lawful basis to collect and use personal information. This is explained below:

NEEDED FOR YOUR CONTRACT:

We need to collect and use your personal information to provide your plan contract. This includes information such as your name, date of birth, contact and bank account details. We will ask for other information depending on the plan type and this can include health, employment, pension and salary information. We restrict access to, and use of, any sensitive personal information. We also create new personal information such as your plan value and benefits.

Personal information needed for plan contracts is held and used to:

- process your application;
- issue your plan;
- make and receive payments;
- provide you with information about your plan;
- administer your plan and pay benefits;
- provide customer care and service; and
- contact you to inform you of any relevant actions you may need to take.

We also collect and use personal information about agents, brokers and financial advisers to service their agency contracts with us.

REQUIRED BY LAW:

We use your personal information to comply with law and regulations:

- reporting to regulators;
- keeping proper books and records; and
- actuarial analysis and risk management to ensure the company stays financially sound.

We carry out internal reporting, quality checking, compliance controls and audits to help meet these obligations.

We must collect certain personal information to comply with Anti-Money Laundering law. This depends on your plan type but includes up to date proof of identification and address. We also screen all customers against Financial Sanctions and Politically Exposed Persons (PEP) lists. To do this, we use your name, date of birth, address, nationality and occupation information.

Where needed we carry out searches of publicly available information. You must give us your tax residence information and tax identification number for tax reporting.

Under regulations we must give you information and updates on your plan. To do this, we use your plan and contact details.

We must keep and use your relevant personal information to calculate the death and disability liability for other plans like yours.

As a regulated product producer, we must use our customer personal information, including yours, to identify the target market for our regulated products and services.

If you get financial advice from one of our tied agents, you must give personal and financial information for your current and future needs to be assessed. This enables the tied agent to recommend the most suitable financial product for you. This also involves creating new and inferred personal information about you. The tied agent has to do this analysis of you, using your personal information, to comply with regulations.

When you give us your personal information we will check to see if we already have a record of you. This helps us to comply with your Data Protection rights. Please see section 8 of this Privacy Notice.

If you visit our offices we will record CCTV footage for safety and security reasons. We only hold these recordings temporarily and for longer if we need to for safety and security investigations.

You can contact us if you have any questions using the details in section 9 of this Privacy Notice.
